

Report of the Bishop's Advisor

The bishop's Cursillo advisor has, to be honest, done comparatively little this year. Attendance and participation at Ultreyas, Send-Offs, Closings, and regular meetings of the Secretariat, and phone and e-mail consultation with other members of Secretariat pretty well cover it. Had there been any need or request to discuss Cursillo issues with the bishop, I'd have done that, but there have been none since our last meeting with the bishop.

COVID-19 has, of course, reduced my responsibilities still further; I've done little but e-mail and phone consultation since the beginning of the lockdown.
