

WEEKEND COORDINATOR'S REPORT, September 2021 AGM

Yes, No, Don't know, Zero.

I imagine those are the answers to the questions everyone is asking.

Will there be more weekends? Yes (God willing)

Do we know when? No

Where will the next weekends be held? Don't know.

How many weekends have been held in 2020 and 2021? Zero.

When I agreed to serve in the position of Weekend Coordinator last September, I was looking forward to weekends resuming in 2021 and figuring out, with Richard Cherry's help, how to put the puzzle board easel together. However, that was not to be.

Instead, my term so far has been quiet except for periodic checks to see what facilities are open and accepting bookings. At the moment, Maison Notre-Dame-de-la-Providence (aka "The convent") is not accepting bookings in 2022. A possible alternate location is the Galilee Centre near Arnprior.

Secretariat will be reviewing the situation in November with input from Public Health guidelines and the Diocese. Stay tuned...

In the meantime, please keep the Teams for the next Men's and Women's weekends in your prayers.

I'll end with a word of thanks to Richard Cherry for graciously sharing his knowledge of what the job (normally) entails and to Murray Hatt for his assistance with the little details that come with this job.

Respectfully submitted,

John Chapman

Weekend coordinator, OACM
